CLUB/GROUP/PROJECT CONNECTION

Now that you have enrolled for the 2016-2017 4-H year, you may be asking the question, “Now what do I do?” The answer varies depending on your role in the 4-H Program.

For Project Leaders: Start by setting a date for your first project meeting or establish the dates your project will meet. 4-H project Leaders should plan on leading 4 –6 hours in a project. You can ask either your club organizational leader or the 4-H office for a list of members enrolled in the project and communicate to them the meeting date, time and place. POSTING your meetings in the monthly newsletter allows for members new to a project to know when you are meeting and what you will plan to cover at your meetings. 4-H project literature to support the Leader is available from the UW Extension office. There is also a vast network of resources available on the Internet,, as well as our public libraries. If you would like help printing resources online or have any project related questions, contact Lori Laberee at the 4-H office. We are also your link to the greater University System and in many cases there are resources available beyond 4-H literature like videos and lesson plans.

If you find educational material from books or the internet that you would like to use for your project meeting, we can print these materials at the 4-H office and you may request additional resources through the 4-H Leaders association.

4-H Members and Parents: Do you know the name of the 4-H project leader for the projects your son or daughter has enrolled in? Ask your club leader. If there is not a project leader for a project call Lori at the UWEX Office and I can help you determine if a neighboring club has a project leader that has room for you to participate in their meetings.. If there are no project leaders available, think about someone in the community that has skill or experience in this area and ask them if they would consider becoming a 4-H Project Leader. Adults who work alongside certified 4-H project leaders do not have to be certified. If there is no leader for your project, YOU determine how you will learn about the project.

Youth Leadership Derby, sponsored by Professional Dairy Producers of Wisconsin (PDPW), is scheduled for April 22-23 in Colby, WI. PDPW Vision: To lead the success of the dairy industry through education. This lock-in style event is perfect for youth who have an interest in real-world science, leadership development and hands-on learning in the agriculture industry. More importantly, students say they have an amazing time!

Students who attend PDPW's Youth Leadership Derby will experience:

Small animal project members met in December . We planted oats to grow young tender greens for our critters, chicken, cat, rabbit. 5 4-H members attended, Levi Bartz, Alena Wolfe, Norman Cooper, Emily Eytcheson, and Harry Norquist. We started the meeting with introductions and talked about topics for future meetings. Project pages were handed out to those present. We viewed several posters saved from this year's fair to stimulate some thinking! We had an outside project. The 4-H members planted oats in a clay pot to grow as greens for their project animal. We also viewed animals on the property. Our next planned meeting is Dec. 3 at 10:30 to 12:30 at our home. Our theme for the meeting is Know Your Animal, we will be start making a paper Mache critter for the kids to practice on labeling and naming it's various parts and may be entered in the fair. This was a weak point for most of our kids this year at the fair. We will not meet in January and plan to meet February 4, 2017.

4 Leaf Clover Club baked and delivered goodies for Christmas to local hospitals, nursing homes, Sheriff and Police Departments. The kids made cards to wish each location a Merry Christmas and to thank them for their service in our community. The next 4 Leaf Clover Club meeting will be held on Friday, January 20, 2017, 1:30 p.m. at the Northwoods Humane Society. The Horse Project will meet on Monday, January 9, 2017, 6 p.m. at the DeLisle Residence.

ATTENTION 4-H CLUB TREASURERS & LEADERS

As you are probably aware, keeping good treasury records is important. You may have also discovered that it's much easier to keep an accurate, on-going record of income and payments than to try and recreate it later. Here are some tips for better record keeping:

Use the "Financial Records" forms found on our website at <http://sawyer.uwex.edu/4-h-youth-development/>. If you use the Excel document the math is done for you! Treasurers can type in and save this document to their own computers.

Start your records as of July 1, 2016. July 1, 2016—June 30, 2017 is the period of activity that will need to be audited next year. This is called a fiscal year as compared to January through December called an annual calendar year. The fiscal dates are used for 4-H records.

Treasurers need to work closely with an adult 4-H volunteer leader who can help them understand how to do their job and the importance of it to their club as a whole.

Remember that financial records tell a story about what your club values and supports. Add enough details to the lines to explain where the money came from or why it was paid out. If money is paid to an individual, tell why (i.e. camp scholarship, reimbursement for supplies, etc.). We know you are all good stewards of the money in your treasuries and keeping detailed records take some work, but in the end, remember it teaches us all about handling money and being accountable, life lessons worth learning.

The Winter Evergreens met on November 13th at the Winter Town Hall. We started the night with an ice breaker to learn everyone's name. We then went out and played a game of kickball. After a snack, we brain stormed some ideas for activities for our club year and then we elected officers. Our new officers for the year are President-Brooklyn Coss, Vice President Jason Knuckey, Secretary-Rhiley Ehn, Treasurer Hailey Coss, and Reporter-Breanna Kinsley.

The Winter Evergreens met on December 11th, at the Winter Town Hall. We started with a brief meeting, and handed out the 4-H record books for everyone. Then we went on to the activities for the night where we did a community service activity. We made chocolate covered pretzels and handmade Christmas cards for the Winter Senior Center. We then had snack and played a game with lots of lefts and rights in it.

Winter Evergreens next meeting will be Sunday January 8th, at 4:00 p.m. at Winter Town Hall.

MASC Meeting—12/6/16 Weigh in was held at the Sawyer County Fair Grounds at 10am. Thirteen steers were weighed in, one more will be following for Gabby Tremblay who had a prior commitment and could not be present.

Meeting at Coops Pizza was called to order at 11am. Attendance was taken. Introduction of MASC Members and parents. New members were introduced and indicated their areas of interest. Enrollment and re-enrollment was discussed. When enrolling online be sure to select the project with MASC following the project name. Note that Internet Explorer does not work for online enrollment.

Post sale meeting follow up. Pat working on getting an estimate to join the roofs of the 2 buildings at the fair-grounds. An estimate was received for the banners on the chain-link fence. Approx. cost of $20 each- these would display buyers names. Year 2016 had approx. 20 buyers. Voted to add a question in regards to this to the survey ie. Would the buyers like to see banners displayed with their names on them or are the signs at the animal pens in the barns enough?

Another suggestion to the survey- ask what we can do to grow and recruit more buyers? Is the time of the auction convenient? Should the time of the sale be moved? Everyone likes the slideshow the Henk's put together. Let's do it again if possible and have it in a more visible area. The Fair Board needs to be asked if passes will be given to last year's buyers as an incentive to get them in the door.

Shirts for the MASC kids were discussed. A small committee will get some ideas together to present at the next meeting. Looking at T-shirts or sweatshirts to wear around the fair grounds. Heather Greuel as a parent will work with a committee to get ideas together. It was mentioned that Hidden Bay Graphics has the MASC logo on file.

Lori handed out a Youth Development sheet- there was one noted change discussed by Lori "if a child turns 19 in December of the selling year they are not eligible for 4-H." The majority of the information was noted by Lori to remain the same. This policy was adopted in September, 2016 by the State.

MASC Advisory board members were discussed and it was noted that an executive board should be elected. It would be great if one child from each group of animals being sold could be a part of this committee. Working goal is to get the kids more involved and comfortable so they can start running their meetings.

It was noted that the swine weigh in will be April 29, 2017 with the sling scale at the Knuckey residence. This will start at 1:00 pm. Pigs should be born in January or very early February. Lamb weigh in will be done with the swine. MASC By-law changes moved to next meeting. It was noted that the Quality Assurance meeting will be set as a club meeting so as many of us as possible can go together.

Financial reports were discussed. There is a fundraising opportunity available for a fishing contest on February 11th. Pat and his children volunteered as well as Jason and Jeremiah Knuckey. If anyone is interested in joining in to volunteer for this opportunity please contact Pat. Information was given to Rhandi Lynn Ehn and Kyle Kinsley to be added as signers to the MASC Accounts at People's Bank. They will join Pat and Donna who are already signers. The next meeting was scheduled for January 22, 2017 at the Winter School Library at 1:00pm. Rhandi Lynn Ehn will set it up at School to reserve the area. Meeting adjourned at 12:17pm. LETS GET our 4-H Project Year STARTED!

LETS GET STARTED! A Message to members.....

January and February are a great time to get started with your 4-H projects and avoid the last minute “it’s almost fair time—too much to do!” blues. Start by setting some goal and writing them down on your project record sheets. If you start your record book now, you’ll be way ahead in August when it’s time to turn them in!

Tips on Setting Goals for your Projects:

- Set goals for what you’d like to learn and do individually. You might also set goals as a project group for what you’d like to accomplish.
- As the year progresses, record what you did and learned in your record book on the project pages.
- At the end of the year, reflect on what you’ve done and learned and celebrate what you’ve accomplished in your record book with words and pictures.
- Remember—It’s okay for goals to change as the project work happens.

LETS GET STARTED!

A Message to New and Continuing Project Leaders.....

As you look to the year ahead, think about how you can help your project members have a great learning experience this year. Set a goal for yourself to get to know your group early and offer support through project meetings and making yourself available for questions outside of schedule meetings.

- Establish a schedule of project group experiences where members may gather to work together on their project. This schedule could be once a month for six months, four Saturdays in a row, or three times a week during the month of June. The important thing is that members and adults gather to learn and have fun together.
- Vary the activities that occur at project meetings. Talks and demonstrations might be presented at one meeting, a field trip to secure resources for project work might be at another, and two or three meetings might be spent working on specific components of a project item.
- Allocate time at project meetings to update project records, answer questions, have members report on progress made, and help them think about what comes next.
- Try to maintain contact with parents of members. Answer their questions and encourage them to work with their members at home on their projects. Parents might be invited to attend one or more project meetings.

- Allow time for members to bring their project work to a meeting. Have each member review and evaluate his or her work. Review the planning sheets and the goals they set earlier. Give recognition for the work that has been accomplished. Youth, like most adults, have unfinished work or tasks, but they will probably be willing to discuss what they have accomplished.
- Celebrate the accomplishment of learning by doing. Some clubs have an after the fair show and tell of favorite projects. This gives kids an opportunity to share accomplishments they’re proud of with people they care about who care about them.

Young people, parents and project leaders all need to work together to see that 4-H project work occurs, that learning by doing takes place, and that everyone has fun while developing the life skills of decision-making, communication and responsibility.

Who Does What? Officers' Duties

President and Vice President

Presidents and Vice President work together to determine the specific duties that each will have in the club. They should determine "who will do what" from the following as well as add any items that may be specific to your club.

- Presiding at all meetings. (Vice President does this when the President is absent).
- Preparing the meeting agenda with the Exec. Committee and key leader.
- Making sure that the meeting place is ready.
- Making sure that the program is ready and thanking the participants.
- Introducing and welcoming guests.
- Appointing and working with committees.
- Arranging for the election of officers.
- Serving as chairman of Exec. Committee.
- Representing club at county or special occasions.
- Leading officers and members in
- planning interesting programs.

Secretary

Accurate club records help maintain orderly business from one meeting to the next. These books serve as historical documents. Club secretaries and 4-H leaders need to determine what records are important to maintain. Duties are as following:

- Keeping accurate minutes of all club meetings and the Exe. Committee meetings.
- Keeping a complete list of all members and calling the role.
- Reading letters to the club at meetings.
- Writing the club's letters.
- Notifying members when and where meetings will be by phone, post card, or in person. (May also be the responsibility of a calling committee).
- Serving on the Exe. Committee.
- Assisting in deciding club goals and the annual club program.
- Calling meetings to order when both the Pres. and Vice Pres. Are absent.
- Completing all club records and reports.

Treasurer

Club funds should be handled in a business-like way. The Exec. Committee establishes a club budget at the beginning of the year that guides the club in making financial decisions. The President should appoint an auditing committee to review the books and make sure all is in proper order at the conclusion of the year. Treasurer duties include:

- Keeping an accurate record of all money received by the club and all money spent.
- Making a report at each meeting including all money collected, all money spent, and the balance in the treasury.
- Paying bills only as voted upon by the club and with the approval of the leader.
- Turning over funds and accurate records to the newly elected treasurer.
- Serving on the Exe. Committee.

Optional Officers:

Reporter

The club reporter keeps the community informed about special 4-H club and members activities. Newspaper, radio, and TV reporters should be kept informed by this 4-H club officer. This can be done by writing news stories, taking photographs, and preparing radio and TV announcements. Advance as well as follow-up stories are both important. Send copies of these items to your extension office.

Historian/Scrapbook Chair

This member keeps a scrapbook of news stories and photographs concerning club and member activities.

In some clubs the secretary or reporter may be in charge of maintaining the scrapbook. The person who has this job should be able to take photos or arrange to have it done.

Song Leader

Group singing helps the club members take part, feel more at ease, and center their attention on the program. The song leaders can set the mood for the meeting. A good song leader:

- Keeps copies of the music and distributes and collects it at club meetings;
- Lead the singing, and is ready for songs at anytime;
- Teaches new songs, and sometimes arranges for someone else to teach new songs.

Recreation Leader

"Playing" time is important at each club meeting because it promotes cooperation and increases member interest through active participation. Recreation leaders may have a committee to help them so that more than one person has an opportunity to lead. A good recreation leader:

- Plans recreation before the meeting begins so it will fit the ages, space and facilities available.
- Know the games thoroughly and show enthusiasm and self – confidence in leading;
- Plan for special recreational events such as parties, picnics, roller staking, etc. throughout the year.
